Departments Get Quarters

Three departments of the College of Arts and Sciences will move to new quarters in about three weeks. Dr. M. M. White, dean, has announced.

The Sociology, Anthropology, Geography and Political Science departments will take over the temporary building between the library and the stadium as soon as classrooms are completed. Offices of the departments moved into the building this week.

With the activation of this and two other temporary units, the engineering building on Scott Street, and the Guignol Theater near the women's dorms, the University will halt the most extensive temporary expansion program in its history.

Sigma Chi To Award 'Best Dressed' Titles

Collegiate fashion will be emphasized on the campus during the next few weeks as coeds and men students vie for the right to participate in the third annual "Best Dressed" Contest on April 21.

Sponsored by Sigma Chi fraternity, the contest will feature representatives of fraternities, sororities, and other campus organizations in competition for the titles of "Best Dressed Man" and "Best Dressed Woman" on the University campus.

Aim of the contest is to promote interest in fashion and better dress on the campus, according to co-chairman Bill Benjamin and James Clift. Nationally known fashion experts have accepted invitations to come to Lexington for the event. In addition to serving as judges, they are scheduled to give advice on the subject of current collegiate fashion.

"Fashion Showboat" will be the contest theme and skits are planned to portray the clothes fads from the "Gay Nineties" to the present day.

No Rent Increase, University Says

The University has good news for veterans living in Cooperstown and Shawneetown.

There will be no rent increase for veterans living there even though the increased veterans' subsistence payments make a $2 to $3 hike mandatory under the Federal Public Housing Authority's regulations. Rents there are based on income. The University says it will disregard the regulation as long as possible and is seeking permission to keep the rates as they are.

Kernel Remodeling

The Kernel plant in the basement of McVey Hall is being enlarged to make room for a new linotype and a larger paper-cutter.

The work is under the supervision of the maintenance department.

Tough Boyd(s), Dese Virginians

Boyd Keenan, 18, junior from Parkersburg, W. Va., is thanking his lucky star that miracles still happen.

While running a foot race with some chums at Berea College last Sunday afternoon, Boyd slipped, fell, and slid under the double rear wheels of a two-ton truck. The wheel is passed over both his legs just below the knees, but miraculously did no injury other than a few slight bruises.

"The truck driver and I were both scared silly," Boyd quipped, "and he, nor I, nor the Berea Doctor who treated me, nor the several persons who saw the accident can figure out why I wasn't hurt."

"I get weak every time I think about what might have happened."

Home Ec Club To Be Host For Workshop

Representatives from 49 college home economics clubs in four states are attending an annual province workshop on the campus today and Saturday. The University club is host with clubs from Asbury, Eastern and Georgetown colleges.

The workshop is an annual feature of the organization in each of the 16 provinces in the United States. Members of the college organizations are junior members of the state association and American Home Economics Association.

an Amis, state club president, is in charge of the program. Norie Lee Johnson, president of the University club, and Eloise Ewbank, chairman of the banquet committee, are assisting in arrangements.

Nichols, Deiss Named Editors

Fred E. Nichols, junior, and Helen Deiss, sophomore, have been elected co-editors of the 1948-49 Freshman Handbook, an informational publication distributed to all new students at the time of their first enrollment, it was announced Monday.

Selection of the two students to head the handbook staff was made by a faculty-student advisory board representing administrative officers and various student organizations. The co-editors will make a staff to start work on the publication at an early date.

The handbook was first published as a unified booklet last year and is distributed during Freshman Week in the Fall. It includes information regarding the rules and regulations of the University and dormitories, activities, traditions, personnel and organization of the institution.

Four Trees Planted Along Phalanx Walk

Four trees were added to the Phalanx Walk, which extends from the Administration Building to the library, at a special ceremony Tuesday.

Guest speakers for the service were Dr. Leo Chamberlain, vice President of the University, and Prof. Norris Elliott of the College of Agriculture.

The project, which is sponsored by Phalanx fraternity, was originated in 1946.

UK Registration Closes At 7,034

The record high enrollment figure for the Spring quarter now stands at 7034 students, Miss Maple Moors, assistant registrar, reported after Saturday's deadline for late entry into classes.

The enrollment surpasses the previous record for a third term by more than 600 students. Normal pre-war Spring term enrollment was 3600, statistics show.

Rush Draft Action, Dr. Donovan Urges

University President H. L. Donovan wants the selective service system revived immediately because he says it is necessary to halt Russian aggression in Europe.

"The draft should be put into effect at once. It should not be delayed a single day," he wrote Mrs. Donovan from Germany where he is making a survey of education for the Office of Military Government.

Convinced Training Needed

Dr. Donovan said that since he had arrived in Germany he is convinced that Universal Military Training is necessary.

"The Russians mean to take over all Europe, make no mistake about it. It is only a matter of time. They probably have D-day already set," he wrote from Berlin in a letter dated Mar. 20.

To Return May 1

The University educator left for Germany on Mar. 1 and is expected to return about May 1.

Dr. Donovan expressed an opinion that "if we are strong we can keep the peace." But he warned that "when the Russians see the character of our armed forces they get the idea we will be a pushover and... it is only a matter of time" until they attempt to take over all of Europe.

Dilly-Dallying

"Why do we have to dilly-dally and wait until some country makes war on us when possibly if we were strong it would not dare to move?" he asked.

"If I have any message to you who are back home it is that we should arm now, not next summer or a year hence," he said.

From Munich on March 19, he wrote:

"I read President Truman's message to Congress. Tell my friends for God's sake to get behind his request. We are living in a fool's paradise at home. Our Army here is only a token army."

Could Take Over

"The Russians could take over any minute they wanted to do so. It is freely said they could occupy Europe in 48 hours if they should move. We need an army here -- a good one -- or we should get out entirely. The draft should be put into effect at once. It should not be delayed a single day. It is a thousand times as serious as I thought it was before I came."

"You may tell these things to my friends at the University. Get Congress to make haste or it may be forever too late."

From Berlin the next day, he wrote urging support of UMT and the draft. "It's no use voting $5,300,000 for URP unless we have an army to back it up. The money will be wasted without some show of strength here," Dr. Donovan said.

Reproductions Shown In University Exhibit Of Modern Masters

An exhibition of 43 facsimile color reproductions by modern masters is now showing at the University of Kentucky Art Gallery. It was announced today by Prof. Edward W. Rannels, head of the Art Department.

Artists Represented

Artists represented by the exhibition range from the Impressionists of the 1870's through to the present and include such names as Cezanne, Renoir, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Degas, Pissarro, Mary Cassatt, Monet, Bonnard, Rousseau, Derain, Picasso, Marin, Grosz, Marc, Miro, Klee, Kandinsky, Rouault, Munch, Watteau, Braque, LeBrun and Chagall.

The collection is owned for the most part by the Art Department. Several are the personal property of Prof. Rannels.

Graves-Cox Will Present

W. M. Carter, associate professor of mining engineering, will conduct the trip.

State Speech Contest To Be Held At UK

State championship competition in the annual program of Kentucky high school activities will get underway on the University campus April 7 with the opening of the twenty-eighth annual State Speech Festival.

Representatives of more than 70 high schools from throughout the state are expected to enter.

Other Officers of the Council

Other officers of the council, elected this week, are Charlotte Salisbury, Alpha Gamma Delta, vice president; Anita Levy, Tau Alpha Pi, treasurer, and Suzanne Hannans, Alpha Delta Pi, secretary.

New Men's Dorm To Be Dedicated

Bowman Hall, the recently completed dormitory for men, will be dedicated at ceremonies to be held on June 4.

This fire-proof structure is the first permanent type building to be completed on the campus in the post-war building program and inaugurates one of the greatest construction programs in the history of the University.

First students moved into the dormitory at the beginning of the current quarter.

The building houses 108 men and will provide central recreation facilities for all men's dormitories.

Non-Sectarian Fraternity Accepted By UK Faculty

A new social fraternity, Tau Kappa Phi, pledge group of Tau Epsilon Phi, was recently accepted on the campus by faculty vote.

Purpose of the new group is the formation of "an actively non-sectarian chapter which would not discriminate against any prospective member because of his religious or social background."

Tau Kappa officers are Ben Cohn, president; Richard Wohlstein, vice president; Jack Goldberg, scribe; Joseph F. Daugherty, comptroller;

Mayor Proclaims Wilcat Day; Movie Men Here

By Haskell Short

Our heroes are coming home this morning.

Kentucky's great basketball team arrived at approximately 7:50 this morning at Union Station where several thousand fans are expected to shout, "Welcome Home, Well Done!"

Lexington Mayor Tom Mooney proclaimed today, "Wilcat Day" and Acting President Lee M. Chamberlain dismissed first hour classes to allow students to join the townspeople, three bands, and newsreel cameramen in welcoming back to the Bluegrass the greatest collegiate basketball team of all times.

As soon as they arrive, the champions will be escorted to a platform in front of Union Station where they will receive official congratulations from the University, the City of Lexington, and the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

They won't need an introduction. On the platform will be Kentucky's great coach, Adolph Rupp, whose coaching ability has made it possible for students to finish their four years in college without seeing the Wildcats go down in defeat at home. And there will be that group of great basketball players who hoist conference championship flags as easily as Kentucky colonels hoist mint juleps, and who take national crowns as extra curricular activities.

Their latest triumph which sends Captain Kenny Rollins, Ralph Beard, Alex Groza, Wah Wah Jones, and Cliff Barker and Coach Rupp to the Olympics in London this summer, brought the national collegiate basketball crown.

The Kentuckians toppled Baylor to win the National Collegiate Athletic Association crown and six days later defeated Baylor again in the finals of the collegiate bracket of the Olympic Trials to win undisputed No. 1 rating in college basketball.

Additions will be made to each of the stands. On the Euclid Avenue side the stadium will be extended upward a number of rows and a press box constructed. A steel upper deck to accommodate 5900 persons will be added to the south side. Both stands will be extended 10 yards to the goal line on each end to provide 10,000 additional seats.

Permanent steel bleachers will be erected in the end zones to give the stadium a bowl-shaped appearance.

Plans for the enlargement were drawn by Dean D. V. Terrell and Prof. Sam A. Mory of the Engineering College.

The parade will go west on gaily decorated Main Street south on Broadway, east on Maxwell, and south on Limestone to the University.

Lexingtonians who were never able to buy tickets to the home games showed excellent cooperation with a SuKy committee headed by Betty Rees Rhoads in arranging the program. Mayor Mooney appointed a committee of civic leaders who arranged to decorate downtown stores, Union Station, and Main Street.

Today's celebration is the first in a number planned for the most celebrated of Rupp's many famous teams. Monday night Harry Wismer, sports director for the American Broadcasting Company, will speak at a Junior Chamber of Commerce honoring Kentucky, and April 10 the Alumni Association will entertain them at a banquet. Tickets to the alumni banquet are on sale in the Alumni Office in the SUB.

Wednesday night's 33 to 49 defeat to the Phillips Oilers failed to distract from Kentucky's great record. Their magnificent performance before 20,000 persons in Madison Square Garden added lustre to the crowns the Wildcats already were wearing.

Kentucky stayed in the game all the way against the Oilers, a group of oil company employees whose chief duty is playing amateur basketball, who had won the national Amateur Athletic Union title six years in a row.

Greene Named YW President

Sara Mae Greene, sophomore, was elected president of the YWCA. YWCA secretary Carolyn Spicer announced. She defeated Virginia Henry.

The new vice president, Lou Constantine, junior, defeated Mary Sue McWhirter for the office. Betty Strunk, sophomore, polled more votes than Ann Dorroh for the secretary's position, and Sara Beam, sophomore, was elected treasurer over Bertha Florence Ward.

The new officers, to be installed soon, will replace Rosemary Dunham, president; Leslie Hollingsworth, vice president; Jean Eubank, secretary; and Maybelle Richenbach, treasurer.

Victorious Wildcats Return

The Kentucky Wildcats, undisputed national collegiate basketball champions, have returned home to receive due homage from their fellow students, members of the faculty and staff, Lexingtonians, and Wildcat followers throughout the Bluegrass.

And they richly deserve all of the laurels which they have won, for this year's fighting basketball squad represents the best team Kentucky has ever had and perhaps the greatest outfit in the history of collegiate basketball.

Each member of the team and of the coaching staff should be congratulated on his contribution to the record of this year's squad which was composed of men who had the heart, the stamina, and the teamwork to win.

Congratulations Wildcats! All Kentucky is proud of you.

The Spice Of Life

By Helen Dorr and Pat Quinn
The biggest question this week and next is: Who is the Kentucky beauty queen? We'll soon know because she's being presented Saturday, April 10. We'd like to give you the inside dope, but try as we will, the information just isn't to be had.

Correction please: Under constant twosomes last week, it shoo'd be Ralph Tatum and Kathy Carter.

Bobby Lou Foil is back in school this quarter and everybody's wondering if she and Harold Hunt will take up where they left off at the end of Fall quarter.

Marcia "Babe Ruth" Middleton can be currently seen playing baseball in the afternoon at four o'clock.

Seems as though Pie Kirkpatrick is becoming more popular each day. Could it be the arrival of spring, finally?

And speaking of popularity the phone at Lydia Brown house has been awfully busy since the arrival of Jobie Anderson with that Florida tan.

Pinnings: Nelle Payne to Doe Farrell; Trudy Clary to David Beam; Margie Clegg to Buri Phillips; Ann Denison to Larry Myers; Shirley Miller to J. Dotson; Vivienne Rambo to Bud Holt; Betsy Billiter to James Maloy; Ann Creech to Mack Gay; Doris Stokes to Bryan Bleant; Nancy Roberts to Frank Benton; Peggy Buckley to John Heick; Joan Rhodes to Paul Fowler; Charles Barley to Anabelle Gant; of Corbin; Ingrid Ultman to Bill Summitt; Sarah McConathy to Bill Byron; Shirley Stivers to Mark Maggard.

Could it be that the Hilly Bryant and Bob Gregor romance is more than a brother-sister affair? Ginger Bowman and Wilma Harvey didn't get to wear their Easter flowers. They were in Corbin and the flowers were here.

Janey Jameson and Alan Parrish were married over the spring holiday.

Ernest Triplett and his girl from home are having troubles, or so we heard.

For every woman who makes a fool out of a man there is another woman who makes a man out of a fool.

The Sigma Chis are wondering why all of Don Russell's girl friends call him at the house. He's a town boy and the phone calls make for much confusion.

Rage of the week: Barry Bonwit from Florida. They say he's worth talking about.

Unpinned: Margaret Yager and Bill Branch.

Have you been having trouble keeping your men separated lately? One girl we know of has.

Since Jean Vance graduated, Jack Wayman can spend his time going

Several spring dances are just around the corner and perhaps they mean a new formal for you.

Mitchell Baker Smith has a large collection of lovely formal in black and pastels. You have your choice of many styles. Some of the dresses have hip emphasis, others are strapless and still others come with matching gloves. You can find a becoming formal from this pretty collection.

Martin's have a new shipment of faille ballerina skirts in black and navy blue. You can find one to suit your taste from their collection of ballerinas with a petticoat effect of taffeta or eyelet ruffles, or those which are untrimmed. Others are tiered with scallops at the bottom. The skirts are priced from $8.95 to $10.95.

You'll want some black ballerina slippers to go with your skirt. Brown's Booterie have some with the buckskin sole and pleated toe, for only $3.50. They will come later in white to accompany your summer clothes.

Meyers have some cute faille purses to go with your best clothes. The pouch bags with handles come in brown and black and sell for $5.00. One would look pretty with a faille suit or skirt.

If you're horse minded, stop at Phoenix Luggage Shop, where a specialty is made in horse jewelry. They have all kinds of jewelry with a horse motif. One of the most popular is a tiny chincoteague horse pin which sells for $1.20 including tax. They look very effective worn in pairs.

Easter morning saw a large variety of new spring clothes. In spite of chilly weather, suits and hats decked with flowers headed the Easter parade. One of the many pretty outfits was that of Betty Vaughn's. She wore a fitted dressy suit of powder blue wool with brown suede accessories. An attractive brown hat and a fur scarf completed her outfit.

Capes are excellent wardrobe companions for spring. They are seen from the short cape attached to the suit, to a separate full length cape. The hip length is a good medium and appropriate for early spring. Elouise Eubank had a lovely one included in her Easter outfit. Her unique and attractive color scheme consisted of a light wool rose suit, over which she wore a hip length cape of lavender wool. Her accessories were of navy blue. The cute bonnet which she made, was trimmed with roses to match her suit.—Adv.

Letters To The Editor

Editor the Kernel:

To a member of the Assembly, there appears to be a depressing lack of interest in the Student Government on the UK campus. The stock comment among students regarding the Student Government seems to be, "What is the SGA, strong conservatives, and equally strong liberals. Any student on the campus can be a member of our party. Our point of agreement is on one thing, the Student Government of this University is failing to take its place in campus life, and that it ill compares with similar bodies in other universities. The average student remains unaware of its very existence.

We do not believe in a smear campaign, but we would like to know why SGA, with over $7,000 per year to spend, does not use a few cents of this to put out complete balance sheets and income statements on these funds, to be placed on bulletin boards over the campus.

We would like to know why SGA does not use the efficient purchasing system of the Comptroller's Department for its buying, and thereby get better results at a cheaper price.

There are many things wrong on this campus which the administration would be glad to correct—if they were brought into attention. At present, however, no channels exist for the individual student to effectively submit his complaint or suggestions to those able to do something about it.

And now, "Interested Student," we have put before you why we are running for office. If you agree with what we have said, and you believe that we can do the job, we would like to see you join us in fighting for an SGA for all the students.

EUGENE AMBURG, Delhi, India

The Kentucky University

Dear Friends,

We learn with pleasure and pride as well as gratitude that you have adopted our Center. This shows your active sympathy for the suffering students of India who were victims of civil strife. Your help will be very valuable in our gigantic endeavors of educational reconstruction. I would like you to convey to all the students and professors of schools for refugee students run by your university my grateful thanks and very sincere appreciation of this gesture of goodwill and solidarity. This has convinced me as nothing else before the ISS (WSSF in India, Ed.) is truly an international organization and not confined to the western hemispheres and that its professions of internationalism are not just empty verbal declarations but are sincere and genuine and are always backed by appropriate action.

I would also like you to know how refugee students like myself feel about the ISS-WSSF and its work. When we migrated to India from West Punjab under great hardship and passing through greater suffering we found that the only agency which devoted itself to the cause of refugee students was ISS. They started vice Fund representation in India.

THE BEST IS YET TO BE"

The telephone will be seventy-two years old this year. Its development within a single lifetime has been a modern miracle. Yet it is only the beginning.

There are any number of men in the telephone business today—some just starting out—who will see greater progress than the past has ever known.

Year by year the next half century will be increasingly theirs. New leaders will appear from among them. Step by step, rung by rung, they will mount the ladder to the top. For telephone management is employee management and comes up from the ranks.

There will be more good jobs for qualified men in the telephone business in 1958 and 1968 than now. It just can't help being that way. For of all the businesses and professions, there are few more interesting and necessary.

So the future is bright for those who make telephony their life work. For them, "The best is yet to be."

Vets Discuss Tuition Rates

A discussion of the tuition rates charged veterans will highlight the first Spring quarter meeting of the Veterans Club scheduled for 7:30 Monday night in the SUB.

Club officials said the agreement between state universities and the Veterans Administration whereby veterans are charged $4 per quarter hour has caused a few students to exceed the $500 tuition allowed for the nine-month school year.

Proposals that the University has made to the VA to refund the overpayments will be discussed and the veterans are expected to draft resolutions to Congress seeking to prevent similar situations.

Learn While You Eat Is Spanish Class Aim

A course in Spanish conversation (10a), to be conducted while students are eating lunch in the dining room of the girls' dormitory, will be offered by the Department of Romance Languages for the Spring quarter. Dr. Hobart Ryland, head of the department announced this week.

The class, open to both men and women students who have completed four or more quarters of Spanish, will be taught by Mrs. Luke Woolridge. Women who do not live in the dorms will be charged an amount to cover luncheon costs, Dr. Ryland said. The four quarter-hour course will be held Monday through Thursday, and has been designed to prepare students who intend to take the Spanish course in Mexico to be offered by the department this summer.

Wildcats Return

The Cats were ahead or almost equal with the Oilers all the way with the exception of the first part of the second half when the Oilers went ahead 37 to 27. But Rupp's Rifles erased that margin and went ahead 47 to 45 when Beard took an out-of-bounds pass from Rollins for a safety basket and free throw awarded when fouled on the shot. Bob Kurland, the Oilers' seven-foot center, hit a trip to tie the score and Gerald Tucker a free throw to give the Oklahomans a lead a held it the remaining five minutes of the game.

A 50-foot shot by Rollins knotted the game for the fifth time to deadlock the game 26 to 26 as the first half ended. The Oilers came back to outscore Kentucky 11 to 1 in the first five minutes of the second half to command a 37 to 27 lead. Then everybody's all-American Beard took over and scored six field goals and a free throw to send Kentucky at 47, and Tucker's free throw sent the Oilers ahead for keeps.

Kentucky led by seven points midway in the first half with Beard the sparkplug of a scoring spree that sent the Wildcats ahead after the score had been tied at 8. In this five-minute spurt that saw Kentucky go ahead 20 to 13, Beard got three field goals, Barker one, and Jones two free throws and a tip-in.

The score was tied at 4, 5, 8, 24, 26 and 47, and the Wildcats broke ahead 5 to 4 and 10 to 8. The lead changed hands nine times with Kentucky going ahead at 3 to 2, on Groza's tip-in, 5 to 4 on Rollins' free throw, 10 to 8 on a bucket by Jones, and 46 to 45 on an out-of-bounds play pay-off by Beard. The Oilers went ahead 2 to 0 at the start, and at 4 to 3, 7 to 5, 21 to 20, 26 to 24 and 47 to 47.

Beard led the scoring for both teams with 33 points. Rollins was next for Kentucky with six. Kurland 20 led the Oilers.

After the game, Coach Rupp told his team, saying he had no alibis. But, he added, the early loss of Barker who went out with a broken nose hurt Kentucky's scoring power.

And the loss of Jones ten minutes to go and Holland a few minutes later via the five-foul rule slowed the Cats' rebounding game.

The Olympic squad which sails for England on July 14 will be five players from Kentucky, five from the Oilers, and two collegiate and two amateur players who will be selected by the Olympic committee.

Chamberlain Stresses Scholarship

The importance of scholarship in college was stressed in an address at Morehead State College yesterday by Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the University.

Dr. Chamberlain said "the chief purpose of any institution of higher learning is the formation of the intellectual powers of its students."

Speaking at Morehead's annual Scholarship Day, he urged the students to "let your education have real breadth and depth. Don't take the easy way. It's good for you to do some things you don't like to do."

24 and 48 to 47.

Beard led the scoring for both teams with 33 points. Rollins was next for Kentucky with six. Kurland 20 led the Oilers.

After the game, Coach Rupp told his team, saying he had no alibis. But, he added, the early loss of Barker who went out with a broken nose hurt Kentucky's scoring power.

And the loss of Jones ten minutes to go and Holland a few minutes later via the five-foul rule slowed the Cats' rebounding game.

The Olympic squad which sails for England on July 14 will be five players from Kentucky, five from the Oilers, and two collegiate and two amateur players who will be selected by the Olympic committee.

Sharpie Gives Original Twist To 'Skin Game'

By James Eddie Jr.

The newest angle in the old "skin game" is now being practiced on a number of students. Some sharp carabiners, evidently in possession of a student directory, has worked out an original scheme for victimizing students' families, especially students whose names end with "Jr."

The game works this way: The culprit, working out of another town, calls the parents of a student, always a "Jr." so far, so that he knows exactly what name to call in the home town. He tells a sad story to the effect that his car is broken down, he is out of money, and cannot contact anyone to help him.

Using a phoney name, he claims to be a close friend of, say, young Jim Eddie Jr., and requests the family to wire him a loan. If he is unfortunate enough to pick the Eddie Jr. residence, as he was, he is then told to try hitch-hiking back to Lexington and starting over. He made the mistake on this call of saying the quarter was over, which lacked a week of being the truth.

In some other cases though, his story worked, and he has hooked several other students' families for sums up to $25.

If your name ends with "Jr." we suggest you clip this and send it home to tip off the folks. As far as we know, the scheme is still operating, and the operator may be making a pretty good living at it, if he calls enough numbers.

ALUMNI NEWS

THEN and NOW

PERSONALITIES

Dear Alumni:

This column will depart from its usual procedure today, and attempt to bring to you some of the color, the thrill, the fellowship, and the pride involved in Kentucky's "last to Madison Square Garden and its achievement in winning the N.C.A.A. basketball championship.

By the time this copy of the Kernel reaches you, the results of the Olympic Trials will be decided and Kentucky's fate in the first Olympic basketball tournament will be sealed. But whatever the outcome, Kentucky alumni everywhere may take great pride in the showing their Wildcats made before a metropolitan audience which bowed down in admiration of the national collegiate champions.

Kentuckians gathered from everywhere to view the team's successive victories in the Garden. Jack Rash, '30, formerly of Henderson, now practicing medicine in Miami, Fla., arrived for the Kentucky-Holy Cross game and was staying through the Olympic trials.

Marshall Barnes, '24, and his wife, Anne, and Malcolm Barnes, '31, and his wife, came up from Beaver Dam and spent the week. Tony Dishman, Ex. '19 and Mary; Jere Beam, Ex. '22 and Lucy, '22, flew up from Louisville. Mrs. Homer Baker, wife of Kentucky's loyal "Bake," Ex. '20, and Mrs. C. C. Patrick, mother of Charlie, Ex. '46, and Mrs. Carlisle Myers, mother of Carlisle Jr., '48, formed an enthusiastic group.

Gene Bryant, '41, of Lexington; Burgess Carey, Ex. '26 and Charlotte; Ray Soudley, Ex. and Elizabeth; "Doc" C. M. Blanton, '29, and wife, Frances, from Harlan; Mary Daingerfield, '39, of Lexington; Elizabeth Hunt, '47, of Washington, D.C.; Jim Moore, '36, secretary of the Philadelphia club; Wash Serini, '48, of Tucahoe, N.Y., ex-Wildcat football star; Dorothy Stahr, wife of Elvis, '36, UK law professor; Phil Sutterfield, '44, who broadcast the games for the home-folks; Margie McLaughlin, '03, ex-secretary of the Alumni Association and loyal Kentucky rooter; Brownie and Frances Leach of Lexington, who came from "the North Broad-school" to become some of Kentucky's most enthusiastic supporters; were among those who came early and lingered to see Kentucky cap the crown.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blazer, Sr., of Ashland, attended the first game. Mrs. Blazer is a member of the University's Board of Trustees and Paul Jr. was graduated from UK last June. Incidentally, Ashland turned out to greet the team on its way east, and had a fine pep meeting and radio broadcast with such interested alumni as Chauncey Forey and Will Ed Covington there to welcome the Wildcats and wish them well.

New York alumni put the big pot in the little one for a get-together banquet Saturday night, March 20, honoring Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, University vice president, and Mrs. Chamberlain. Approximately 100 alumni and Kentucky rooters attended and heard the vice president outline the University's progress in recent years. Duncan Stokes, '39, president of the New York Alumni, who has just been promoted to district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Railroad in New York, presided at the dinner.

A few New York Kentuckians at the dinner were Johnny Johnston, '41, Bob Baugh, '28, Robert M. Allen, '60, Rufus L. Weaver, '35; Bill Butler, '36, treasurer of the New York Alumni Association; Stephanie Sorrell, '41, club secretary; Georgia Sudarth, Ex.; Sid Hamby, '28; and many others who came to greet Dr. Chamberlain and to add to the enthusiasm and pleasure of the occasion.

Kentucky's junior Senator, John S. Cooper, former UK trustee, and brother, Don; Elizabeth Hunt, '47, and Edith Rankin of Lexington met the train to greet the returning rooters as we came through Washington last week, and to add their word of praise to Kentucky's fine

Louisville And Baylor Easy Victims Of Wildcat Cagers

Kentucky 77, Baylor 59
Led by Alexander The Great Groza, Kentucky won its second victory over Baylor University within the span of six days. After trouncing the cagers from Waco, Texas, 58-42, last Tuesday a week in the NCAA finals, UK's racing Zip Kids came back to win again over Baylor last Monday, this time by a 77-59 margin.

As a result of this conquest, the mighty Wildcats can lay undisputed claim to being the nation's No. 1 collegiate basketball aggregation for the 1947-48 campaign.

For the Lexington Lynxmen, it was win No. 36. The defeat gave Baylor a final mark of the season

Track Team Whitewashed At Purdue

By Winfield Leathers

Finally realizing what first-class competition is like, Kentucky's trackmen are buckling down to strenuous exercises and hard work as a result of UK's pointless showing in the Purdue Relays at Lafayette, Indiana, last Saturday.

Only one of the six Wildcat entries passed the qualifying tests to enter the finals of one of the meet's 15 events. Don (Dopey) Phelps, of UK football fame, came the closest to entering the scoring column for the Kentuckians by placing sixth in the finals of the 60-yard dash. Points were given only for the first five finishers.

Results of the qualifying heats show that Kentucky had four hurdlers who just missed a chance for the finals as all came in third in their heat, when it took first or second place showing to earn another try.

Johnny Melhus, Ralph Genito, and Dennis Rice—all 60-yard dashers—were three of UK's near-missers when each crossed the finish line third in his respective heat. The fourth Kentuckian, high and low hurdler Tony Dallas, also fell short as he closed in third place of the low hurdles' semi-finals.

Of the 26 schools sending representatives to the meet only seven entered teams for the 440-relay and Kentucky's team, made up of Phelps, Melhus, Dallas, and George Kirchner, finished seventh.

Biggest disappointment so far is not with UK's showing in the Purdue Relays but with the small number, approximately 75, of students that signed up for track, with only one out of every four signers showing up for the daily workouts, which start at 3 p.m. and run until 4:30 p.m.

The freshmen, whose interest for sprinting glory is practically nil, are very few in numbers and, sadly enough, the freshman squad opens its competition Monday, April 5, when the varsity squad of Millersburg Military Institute, Millersburg, Ky., travels to Lexington for a clash on the University cinders.

Next on the schedule for the varsity thin-clads is a meeting on April 10 with Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va., and on April 17 with Vanderbilt University of Nashville, Tenn.

Adolph Rupp, one of the top coaches in the country, has been here at Kentucky for 18 years. During this period, Rupp's Wildcats have lost only 70 games in 423 encounters.

Baseball Nine Draws 43 Men

By Kent Hollingsworth

With the first baseball game only a week off, 43 men are still playing pepper and throwing baseballs at each other behind Alumni Gym, bidding their time until five first string players return from New York, and a park large enough to hold batting practice can be obtained.

Coach Chuck Settle scratched dust up with his spikes, and murmured, "It certainly is going to be mean to meet those southern boys, who have been playing for a month, when we haven't had more than a few days of batting practice."

Athletic Director Bernie Shively is expected in this morning, and will arrange for the Wildcat baseballers to use Legion Field, out on South Broadway, but even if the team starts practicing there Saturday, only four full days of practice can be held, prior to the season's opener with Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Pitchers Bob Hatchet and Willie Allen, lettermen last year, are rounding into form, and a boy named John Minor can throw that rock with a whiz.

Gerry Buterman and Buddy Clegg are handling the catching duties, and Clegg appears to have quite a nice peg.

Returning lettermen are: T. Lauderan, Ralph Beard, John Cross-

Tennis Team Troubled

All that racket coming from the Downing Tennis Courts is the UK Tennis team banging their heads against a stone wall.

All they want to know is why can't the Tennis team be given four courts from 3:00 on, every day, and why is it that if one of the nine members of the team gets a free hour during the day, and decides to get in a few swings, he has to pay the usual 15c student charge to walk on a court.

CAUSE FOR AMERICAN PRIDE...

JEFFERSON'S ROUGH DRAFT OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

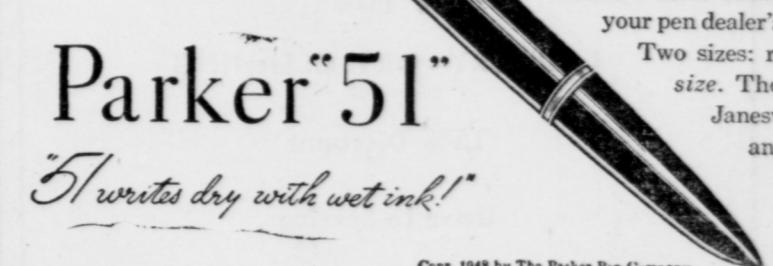

A Declaration by the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress assembled
When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the equal station to which the Laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to this separation.
We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness; that to secure these ends, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any Form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem best calculated to secure these ends.

Part of the original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence, written by Thomas Jefferson. It is now on display aboard the "Freedom Train." The revisions shown were included in the document finally presented to the Continental Congress.

• SPORTS

By Tom Diskin

Congratulations to Coach Adolph Rupp and the Champion Wildcats! In winning 36 contests in a rugged 39-game schedule this season, Kentucky will go down as one of the greatest collegiate basketball teams in the history of the sport. The Cats have brought the State and the University nation-wide renown.

All of the 1947-48 Kentucky players, particularly Ralph Beard, Alex Groza, Wah Wah Jones, Ken Rollins and Cliff Barker will long be remembered by present students of UK for the honors that they have won for this institution.

Strange as it may seem, the Kentucky Wildcat basketball team actually gained more prestige than they lost in that game with the Phillips Oilers last Wednesday night.

One of the United Press top sportswriters, Carl Lundquist, predicted on Tuesday that "in this corner it looks like Phillips by 20 points or by as big a margin as the rugged Oilers wanted to pile up." He must have been rather surprised as the Wildcats almost upset the Oklahomans, losing only in the final two minutes of the contest after a savage fight.

Here is the scoring for Kentucky's first five players for the entire season.

Player	Regular Season	NCAA	Trials	Total
Groza	385 (33 games)	54 (3)	49 (3)	488 (39)
Beard	378 (32 games)	40 (3)	58 (3)	476 (38)
Jones	260 (30 games)	42 (3)	33 (3)	335 (36)
Rollins	244 (33 games)	19 (3)	13 (3)	276 (39)
Barker	225 (32 games)	11 (3)	23 (3)	259 (38)

Annual Spring Grid Tilt Postponed Indefinitely

By Dudley Saunders

Unpredictable weather and numerous injuries have forced postponement of the annual spring intrasquad football game, originally scheduled for Saturday on Stoll Field. Officials announce that the game might be played next Friday night.

Dress scrimmage has been scheduled for tomorrow afternoon as one of the features of the UK Coaching clinic, which also highlights the personal appearance of Don Hutson and Otto Graham, receiver and passer respectively, two of America's all-time gridiron greats.

Although the coaching clinic is usually a summer affair, several reasons prompted the switch to an earlier spring date.

Practice sessions during the past week revealed that Don Phelps and Norman Klein, a pair of crackerjack halfbacks, have been shifted to the fullback berth, with the latter turning in one of the best performances seen at that position this spring.

In an effort to find what men work best at what positions, Bryant made several other changes during the week, most notable of which was that of "traveling man" Nick Odilivak, who was moved to left end.

Right tackle received a shot in the arm with the reappearance of Frank Smotherman from a southern hospital.

Since no shining new stars have emerged from spring practice, probably the most noteworthy accomplishment lies in the fact that all the boys have learned a great deal of football. At present, most of them are having a little trouble applying what they have learned, but throughout there has existed a spirit of competition, an eagerness to fight for a starting berth or even a second string berth, that has been refreshing. And if anyone is optimistic concerning prospects for the 1948 Kentucky gridiron machine, they only have to look at the hard-working, ambitious crew to have their faith justified.

Mr. Kemper—When rain falls, does it ever rise again?

Carl—Oh yes, in dew time.
